Beautiful and Appealing Oil Paintings

Now Yours as Full Color Large Art Prints

ALL 4 ONLY $1

Just picture these irresistible critters in your own home. Everyone who sees these appealing animals fall in love with their adorable warmth and touching wide eyes. You just want to take them into your home and into your heart. That's because the artist, Coby, one of America's most perceptive painters of animals has captured the universal appeal and warmth you find only in a funny, friendly wild animal. Under his sensitive brush, the wonder of these lovable jungle animals and the colorful backgrounds combine to give a refreshing glimpse of life. Unfortunately the black and white illustrations here cannot possibly convey all the artist's magical color and brilliant details. Only when you see them in your home can you fully appreciate their magnificent artistry and superb beauty.

OFFER WILL NOT BE REPEATED THIS SEASON

We urge you to order your full color prints now while the supply lasts. The dramatic portraiture of animals is the latest decorator rage, and these are certain to go quickly. In order to show some of the craftsmanship and intricate detail in all the pictures, we have shown one picture larger than the rest. Actually all four fine art prints are the same size, a full 11" x 14" decorator size. So hurry, order now, offer will not be repeated this season in this magazine.

The MISSING CHERRY PIE

When Henery Hawk came clumping sadly up onto the stage of the school auditorium, he looked as gloomy as the howling storm raging outside. Ollie Owl stared at him reprovingly.

"Really, Henery," declared Ollie very sharply, "you should be proud and happy to be on our Washington's birthday program."

"Shucks, Ollie," moaned Henery, "you like programs because you are so good in them. I always do something wrong."

"Well, Henery," Ollie advised, "concentrate on doing the right thing and you will have no trouble. Indeed, you might even be the hit of the program!"

But as more of the students came gaily up onto the stage, their cheeks rosy and shining from the wind and snow, Henery hunched down in a chair, looking gloomier than ever.

Finally, some of the girls from the cooking class scurried in noisily, the sweet smell of the freshly baked goodies they were carrying floating deliciously in the air.

"I think that having our homemade cherry pies in the cherry tree part of Washington's life was just simply a dandy idea!" one of the girls said excitedly. "Let's set them on a table backstage until we need them."

The girls disappeared behind the curtain and Ollie joined the crowd of parents and friends in the auditorium. Henery just sat hunched sadly on the stage until, suddenly, he heard strange scraping noises behind the scenery. Quickly, he darted back of the curtain to see what was causing the sounds. As much to his own surprise as to theirs, he found a family of nimble, quivery-nosed mice who had sniffed the delectable pies.

"Wow!" gulped Henery in alarm. "Scat! . .

No, that's for cats. Anyway, get out of here, you robbers!"

"Squeak! Squeak!" the biggest mouse shrilled sadly.

Henery stopped his threatening advance as the mice huddled shaking in a corner, their big brown eyes staring wildly.

"Golly," Henery muttered in helpless resignation, "I wonder what George Washington would have done in a case like this. Well, I just can't chase these poor, hungry creatures out into the cold to freeze and starve," he decided, scooping out half of one juicy pie onto some paper and putting it gently down on the floor for the squeaky, cowering mice.

Just then, a voice hissed urgently, "Henery, it's time for the cherry tree scene!" And Ollie Owl appeared from behind a curtain, looking as bland and innocent as if he had not been spying on Henery.

But when the girls went backstage for the cherry pies, they rushed out again with cries of anguish.

"Someone has taken half of a pie!" one of the girls shrieked in a shocked voice.

Everyone started to jabber loudly at once, until Henery stepped forward slowly, his head drooping guiltily.

"I took the pie," he mumbled.

"Why, you greedy boy!" one girl gasped.

"Wait," interrupted Ollie Owl firmly. "I saw it all! He took the pie for some starving mice — not for himself."

"Oh," sniffed a teacher.

"Hmph!" snorted Ollie impatiently. "After all, this is Washington's birthday. So I think that Henery is the star of this program, because he told the truth!"

When everyone cheered in agreement, Henery smiled happily at Ollie.
